Shipping Tray/Lid - Raw Material Sourcing Addition

PCN: 34701

Published: 2022-05-06

Type:	Additional Source/Supplier
Description:	This notice is to inform you of a potential visual change to surface finish on shipping trays and lids as a result of our existing vendor adding an alternate source for the raw materials used in manufacturing. This additional source is to ensure continuity of supply. There is no change to the raw material specification used in the manufacture of the trays and lids and they are functionally the same as those currently used. The dimensions and markings remain unchanged. Micron has completed the required testing and those qualification reports are available from your Micron account representative. Micron is notifying of immediate implementation as the raw material supply is fluid and could change at any time.
